

Trevor M Zimmermann

Trevor is a Commerce Graduate from the University of Queensland and Fellow of the Institute of Chartered Accountants in Australia.

Trevor joined an international accounting firm in the audit and investigations division in 1980, and specialised in Corporate Services, acting for a wide range of private and closely-held public companies, emphasising audit, business consulting and computer services.

In addition, a significant part of Trevor's clients include small public companies, and as such provides regular management and strategic advices to management and directors of such organisations, and in particular, in a way which understand the shareholders needs.

Areas of expertise include wholesaling, retailing, transport industries, and professional practices, having been involved in these areas in both audit and advisory capacities throughout his career.

A particular interest of Trevor's is the use of computers to improve reporting efficiency and as such he was Partner in charge of Information Technology at his former firm and the National IT Director.

Trevor is also the co-ordinator in respect of company law and accounting standard changes and hence is heavily involved in the update of in-house documentation, procedures and training.

Together with Denis Jarrott, he is a founding Partner of Merrotts.
